Q

On May 20, 2021, FBI agents involved in the investigation conducted a review of information located in the FBI's complaint database system related to Thornton. Thornton has been the subject of complaints since November 11, 2020, by several persons who have received messages characterized as disturbing or threatening since that time.

On May 21, 2021, FBI agents obtained a federal search warrant to review records regarding the location of Thornton's cellular telephone—the same device that sent the text messages listed above. According to records from Thornton's cell phone provider, his phone was in Las Cruces, New Mexico, when the texts referenced above were sent. Accordingly, the communications described above crossed state lines.

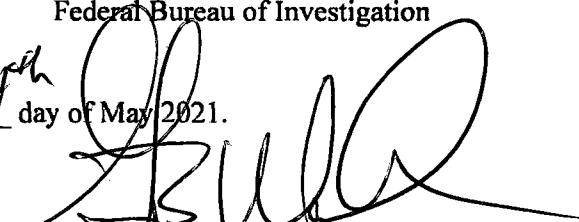

Based on a review of Thornton's driver's license photo, agents recognized him in photos associated with the threatening text messages sent from the cellular phone subscribed by Thornton.

Based on the information described above, there is probable cause that John Benjamin Thornton committed violations of Title 18, United States Code, § 875(c) – Transmitting in interstate commerce communications containing any threat to injure the person of another.
